

WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY MONDAY
AT LEBANON, KY.,
BY T. A. JAMES.
TERMS:—For 1 year will be furnished
subscribers at the following rate:
One year, in advance, $2.00
If paid within six months, 2.50
At the end of the year, 3.00

Port's Corner.

From the Dover Gazette.
Hurch for Buchanan.
—“THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER.”
Arise, true American, haste to your duty,
Our Star Spangled Banner thou hast in the dust;
Thou hast defied its original purity,
With sworn far prejudices, me and unjust.
Prosperity and cold blooded murders have stained it;
But rush to its rescue, and salve our nation,
And show for your President noble Buchanan.
Awake to the war of our country's duty,
Our Star Spangled Banner well we will not abandon;
Will we consent as in happy communion,
The glory of nations and pride of the world,
The Nation and party more noble than ever,
In holy alliance with nothing can sever,
Stands up for this greatness with bounding
of cannon,
And offers as leader its trusty Buchanan.
No standard, however, dignified or sublime,
Has ever been able to injure his face,
While forty years' services, great energetic,
Exalt and exultation his virtuous name.
Ye winds, waft his fitness all over creation,
Shout! shout! all ye people, his wise nomination,
And behold his genius, yet low hanging caution,
Proclaiming our President, spotless Buchanan.
Then from the Atlantic unto the Pacific,
From Florida's cape to Canada bay,
America's rally, in earnest! terrific!
Let righteousness reign and true principles
shine;
For brotherly kindness, angelic and pure,
Your faithful contentment forever assure,
With sentiment stronger than thundering cannon,
Support our good President worthy Buchanan.

For the Post.

GREENSBURG, July, 23, 1856.

Mr. Editor:—Dear Sir:—Through the columns of your paper please admit the following communication to be read by the public.

In my rambles through your State I had the pleasure of a visit to the Sulphur Well of Boone county. This well now so rapidly gaining popularity, is situated on a hill about 100 feet above the level of the sea, and is a regular carriage communication is established for the safe conveyance of passengers to and from the well, at any time by calling on the very gentlemanly proprietors of the Allen Hotel, Messrs. Scott & Wooding. Here, at this celebrated Sulphur Well, have already congregated during this season,
more than two hundred different persons,
both old and young, to partake of its cool
and healing waters; and many of these are returning the second time this season,
to obtain a fuller supply, or to effect a more permanent cure of whatever disease
they have. In conversing with several of these invalids I obtained ample testimony as to the medicinal virtue of the water, to warrant the present owners and proprietors in realizing all they have anticipated in their desired success at this well, in time to come. Mr. Bowling and his interesting family are putting forth every energy to satisfy all visitors who may chance to stop there; their courteous and friendly manner always awakens a desire in their visitors to return to this lovely retreat, and share again their hospitality.

VIATOR.

PRETTY GOOD.—An affected lady about to be married, in a place not over four hundred miles off, went to look at some furniture. She wished to have a piece of furniture to set in the corner of the parlor
upon which to place books and curiosities.
She saw several, but they did not suit. It seems she could not explain what she wanted. Finally, she said:

“Mister, have you got any with under trowsers in them?”

“With what in?” ejaculated the surprised dealer in veneered cherry, &c.—“with what in?”

“With under trow-trow-trowsers in them.”

“And what the dence, madam, would you do with under trowsers in a piece of furniture like that?”

“Why, to put shells and other curiosities in.”

“Ah! ho! ho! You mean drawers, eh?
Why didn't you say so? Walk up stairs,
ma'am.”

The lady collapsed, and a footman
placed her in an open carriage.

“Did you present your account to the defendant?” inquired a lawyer of his client.

“I did, sir.”

“What did he say, sir?”

“He told me to go to the devil, sir.”

“Well, sir, and what did you do after that?”

“Why, then I came to you.”

HERE THEY GO.—The Albany (N. Y.) Register, last year a leading supporter of the K. K. State ticket, has raised the Freemont flag.

The Hartford Courant, the leading State
paper of the K. K. of Connecticut, lifts
the flag of Fremont and Dayton.

Humorous Tales.

A Novel.

Scene laid in Virginia. Text—Satan and Pilot, Facts.

CHAPTER I.

The Lone—On a fine evening, a party
surrounded with heres, and a female friend,
rose, and, with a sweet smile, and a voice occasionally interspersed, sat two lovers, (a male and a female friend). The gentle zephyr's soft and fragrant breath
blow playfully over their hair, and a wide sweet smile came over their faces, and
the stars in glory crowned the night.
The pale moon rose like a god, and his silver radiance shed a pure and holy light
around the place where the lovers sat.
“Oh, dearest,” cried Satan, as she twined her lovely, snowy arms around her lover's neck, and reined her blash-ing cheek up in his manly breast, “and in that thou wilt never cease to love me as you love me now.”

“Nay, dearest,” said Satan, “thy kiss
ing my pure white brow, and she said, “Still whispering the gentle zephyr,
the flowers and the gourd vines continue to smell sweet, the stars shine on, and the moon in the moon kept picking up brush.

CHAPTER II.

“And tell me, dearest,” said Satan,
“what thou hast seen when thou hast been in the fields, like sweet music in my ears—when thou hast loved one, with thou hast mine own, my wife, wilt thou?” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

CHAPTER III.

The Lone's Prayer.—“Oh, dearest Satan,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't excess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

“Still, my own, my own, my own, my own,
said Satan, whilst he took one of her
snowy fingers in his teeth, “don't ex-
cess thy loving Peter, and make me feel
the pangs of jealousy, shoot through my
heart like molten lead. Then, however I
love thee, oh, how truly; so don't tease
thy Peter, dearest, love,” and she said,
“And still she blushed, and the zephyr
blew the flowers, the gourd vines sweet
smell, the stars shine on, and the moon
in the moon kept picking up brush.

Courting in Broadway.

A very singular wedding took place here
last week. A young and very pretty Irish girl—the sister of one of our common emulation, was walking on Broadway,
when she attracted the attention of an elderly gentleman, of large wealth, who had lived all his life a bachelor and a spinster. He said that he was tired in an affluence, and carried the birth in his breast, and that he wanted
the sweet influence of the tender passion.
Well, this gentleman on the previous evening, by this Irish girl, so to degree that he arrested his step, and ventured to address her.

“Will you pardon the liberty, Miss, if I ask your name?”

THE POST.

LEBANON, KY.,

Wednesday Morning, July 30 1836.

Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT:

JAMES BUCHANAN,
Of Pennsylvania.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT:

J. C. BRECKINRIDGE,
Of Kentucky.

Nominees of the Convention.

For Judge:

George Kavanaugh,
Of Anderson.

For Commonwealth's Attorney.

Andy Barnett,
Of Green.

Nominees of the County Democratic Convention.

For Sheriff:

FELIX JARBOE,

For Deputy:

JAMES YOWELL,

For Circuit Clerk:

N. T. BERRY.

R. L. Wickliffe asserts that Andy Barnett is not the nominee of the Springfield convention. Who is? He says Dugan and Johnson, of Nelson, voted for Barnett; Johnson against his will, and Dugan by mistake. We have seen letters from both Dugan and Johnson, saying they voted for Barnett in convention thro' choice, and intend to vote for him the same way at the polls.

Barnett was really the strongest man of the four competitors before the convention. There were seven counties and four candidates. Of course the majority of the counties had to make a second choice; and the man strongest in second choice, was strongest in convention. Then Barnett got Taylor and Green as their first choice. Marion and Mercer would have voted for him if they had been called on to make a second choice. Washington did vote for him as her second choice. Half of the Nelson vote, and five out of seven votes of Anderson come to him as their second choice;—showing that he was by far the strongest man in the convention.

Springfield Convention—Little Dogs in High Rye.

Hardin and Wickliffe have denounced the Springfield convention all over the district as dictators, usurping upstarts, little dogs in high rye. One would suppose that neither of these gentlemen ever was in a convention, but for the fact that it is a matter of record that both of them were in the 8th of January convention at Frankfort last winter, and that hitherto both of them were notorious for their activity in all and any kind of democratic meetings.

We suggest to each and every one of the hundred and seventy gentlemen composing that Springfield Convention, that they turn out and convince these gen'ly who seek to disorganize, distract their party; that they are too little, very little dogs in mighty high rye.

Let some delegate of the Convention attend to that matter at every voting precinct in the district. They thought when they went to Springfield, that they were doing the best for their party, and the country; and now they are denounced as dictators, by two men who seek to dictate to the whole party. Because neither of them could get the endorsement of the party, with which they profess to act—but against whose real interest they are now at work. See to it Democrats you "little dogs in high rye."

PHIL LEE, K. N. elector for this Congressional District addressed the citizens of this county, in the Courthouse of this place, on Saturday last. He did not come up to our expectations, his speech being a very prosy, prolix and tiresome affair. Mr. Wm. Jousson, of Nelson answered him in behalf of the Democracy. His speech, on the contrary, was replete with humor and sound argument, and the loud and frequent applause evinced the enthusiasm which he stirred up. Mr. J. has been doing valiant service during the present canvass.

GOON FOR EVIL.—We wonder if our American friends are voting for James D. Hardin, because he joined, left and skinned them alive last year? We also wonder if they think they are preserving that "Christian civilization" they were so much concerned about last year in voting for Wickliffe.

Politico-Parsons—"Monsieur Tonson Come Again."

We seem to be a doomed people, in the way of parsonical inflictions. Last year Sam sent us an ex-patriation, to enlighten the voters of Marion county, as to how they should cast their votes. The consequence of that experiment, we thought, satisfied Sam; but it seems we were mistaken in so thinking. Now again, that another election is approaching, Sam has sent another missionary—a parson missionary—among us. On Saturday last, a Rev. Mr. Pond, of Boyle county, as we learn, was at Bradfordsville, and after speeches had been made by the judicial candidates, he said Pond "exaggerated the explorations of the diametrical stand" in real know-nothing, but most impudent-like style. Our informant says he opened by saying he had nothing to do with the judicial canvass—it was a fight among democrats—he was glad to see it going on—hoped they would eat each other up in Kilkenny cat style; and then let into the convention that nominated Buck and Breck, in real Bentonian style—that is to say, with all of Benton's vulgarity, without any of his power. He aimed to be especially severe on conventions in general; seeming to forget that Fillpot and Donalson were the candidates of a convention—a know-nothing convention at that, where spectators were by no means admitted.

After demolishing the convention, (in his own estimation,) he let into Buck, with the same old song—federalist, abolitionist, bargain and intrigue, &c., &c.; said Breck had a difficulty with a Mr. Cutting, in which he came off second best,—a most unpreacher-like allusion. We think, having disposed of the convention, of old Buck, and then young Breck, he took a turn at the Catholics and foreigners. On the Catholic branch he was peculiarly happy, it giving him an opportunity to exhibit his theological attainments, and his bigotry; and wound up on this point by the remarkable statement that now many Catholics had joined their order and would vote with them—a most unparson-like assertion—Rehashed all the cant slang of last year about foreigners, and then concluded his most remarkable harangue. Our informant says the creature seems to have swallowed all the mendacious articles published in the Journal for the last eighteen months, against Catholics, foreigners, Buchanan, Breckinridge, and Democracy; and then just vomited forth the conglomerated mass of lies, detraction, calumny and corruption, and got mad at the stretch he had himself created. For two long hours was this thing called a political speech protracted.

If our know-nothing friends are bound to have speeches, if they desire to have them, in the name of common decency, don't outrage everybody's sense of propriety by importing from little Britain or Brush Creek, political parsons or ex-parsons, either. We do not know the Rev. Pond, did not hear his speech, and have given what we are informed is a correct outline of his oration. He may be, and, for aught we know, is, a very clever, pious, sincere, charitable, polished, educated, exemplary Christian minister; but the fact stated, that he made a political speech, for any or either side, is enough to make us doubt his possessing any of the qualities above enumerated. We fear he is a Pond, a pond indeed, not of Christian love, piety, and purity, but a stagnant, putrid, gangrened, stench-creating pond—one filled with toads of slander, snakes of poisonous cunning, with tadpole—tailed and tailless; with tarrepins, and snapping turtles, with bull-frogs, water-dogs, and such other venomous vermin as usually infest such a Pond. If Mr. Pond is really a gentleman and a Christian, we sincerely regret that he does not spend his breath in preaching "love to all mankind," instead of stirring up a war of race upon race, and of religion upon religion; and we hope he will hereafter do so, though we understand he is one of Sam's assistant electors. If so, there is little left to hope for in him.

Judicial Canvass.

Kavanaugh and Barnett passed through the upper portion of our county last week, on their way to Taylor and Green. They have made a thorough canvass of the district,—have done their duty faithfully, and it now remains for their friends to see the thing out. Let some active democrat at each voting place in the district, make it his exclusive business to attend to their interests, so as to insure that the importance of the Judicial election shall not be overlooked, on account of the county elections; and especially ought it to be attended to upon the day of election. The election might be lost by sheer negligence.

Calistus Abell, is a candidate for the office of Assessor. Also our old friend Wm. Dugan. Also Wm. Emerson.

The Duty of Southern States.

We copy the following article from the New Orleans Delta, an independent journal, and ask for it an attentive perusal from our readers. The Delta acknowledges allegiance to no party organization, and is governed on its political positions by what it honestly believes to be the interest of the South.

The Electoral College of the United States consists of two hundred and ninety six votes, distributed as follows:

SIXTEEN FREE STATES.

Maine,	8
New Hampshire,	8
Vermont,	6
Massachusetts,	13
Rhode Island,	4
Connecticut,	6
New York,	35
New Jersey,	7
Pennsylvania,	27
Ohio,	23
Indiana,	13
Illinois,	11
Michigan,	6
Wisconsin,	5
Iowa,	4
California,	4
Total,	176

FIFTEEN SLAVE STATES.

Delaware,	3
Maryland,	8
Virginia,	15
North Carolina,	10
South Carolina,	8
Georgia,	10
Florida,	3
Alabama,	9
Mississippi,	7
Louisiana,	5
Texas,	4
Tennessee,	12
Kentucky,	12
Missouri,	9
Arkansas,	4
Total,	120
Grand Total,	296

Whoever is elected by the people must obtain one hundred and forty-nine votes out of the two hundred and ninety-six. It is conceded that Fremont cannot carry any Southern State, and also that Pennsylvania, from State pride at least, will go for Buchanan. Nevertheless if the fusionists should carry for Fremont all the free States except Pennsylvania, it would give him the exact majority of 149. But this cannot be conceded, and consequently if the contest were only between Buchanan and Fremont, it would place the election of the former almost beyond question or hazard.

Should Mr. Buchanan carry all the Southern States and Pennsylvania, he would have one hundred and forty-seven votes, two less than a majority. Indiana or Illinois, Iowa or California, Wisconsin or Michigan, or possibly New York—some one of which may pretty safely be counted on for him—would make up the deficiency. But, then, Delaware, with three votes, is doubtful, Kentucky not entirely certain, nor yet Louisiana, unless the Democrats of the last named State act with greater unanimity and vigor—especially in New Orleans—than they have yet displayed in the present canvass. The failure of either of these States to vote with the Southern States as a unit would seriously endanger the result, and might throw the election into the House, where there is little doubt the black republicans would triumph, as they did in the election of Speaker. It becomes, then, the obvious duty and policy of all who would defeat the black league, which is headed by Fremont, to endeavor to concentrate the whole strength of the South upon the strongest constitutional ticket that is presented. That is unquestionably the Buchanan and Breckinridge ticket, upon the Douglas-Soule platform Mr. Fillmore can only enter as an element to disturb the calculation on which this policy is based. He has not even an appreciable chance of election. It is a rank infatuation to suppose so. The delusion can do nothing but produce a morbid plot in the South, and will not detract one whit from the black republican consolidation in the North. In the North the battle will be waged against the South, and the more distinct the issue, and concentrated the opposition on the South, the better. The question is, who is the most conservative, national, and available candidate for the South to unite upon? From all present indications and date, Mr. Buchanan, take him all in all, platform included, is that man.

If such is the case, then every vote cast against him in the South is a vote indirectly in favor of the black republican ticket. But let the South go as a unit for Buchanan against the black fusion—given that Pennsylvania and any other free State go the same way—and the defeat of Fremont will be ensured; the black tide will be hurled back from the Capitol which it threatens to engulf, and for four years at least the Union may hold together without subjecting the South to the alternative of abject submission to the rabid Kakistocracy of the North, or secession.

The time long ago predicted by Calhoun and other forecasting statesmen has come. Abolitionism, in all its forms, phases, and degrees is consolidated to crush out the South, destroy her political prestige, and blot out her future. The South must meet it or be prepared to fall; and to meet it successfully, should carry the war into Africa. If, with Mr. Buchanan, this strategy can be best executed, then be it so. Who will say nay? It is no time now for Southern men to be bounded by the narrow horizon of selfish politicians, factions and cliques. It is no ordinary responsibility that rests upon every Southern voter, and he will have a fearful recount to answer to his conscience and his country who shall deliberately throw his vote away, from caprice or from lingering party prejudice, when the South expects every son of hers to do his duty, faithfully, wisely, and effectually. Between the South and black republicanism there is now no middle ground.

Correspondent of the Louisville Democrat.

Letter from Danville.

DANVILLE, KY., July 22, 1836.

Messrs. Editors: The talented and accomplished Col John W. Stevenson addressed the citizens of this place, on yesterday (Monday) evening. The courthouse was crowded to excess, and all anxious to hear the orator. Immense crowds followed him from Perryville and Harrodsburg, where he had previously spoken. The k. n.'s were more curious to hear him than the Democrats. The fairness and mild gentlemanly manner in which he treated the topics of the day, contrast so favorably with the bully-ragging, brass-knuck style of Roger Hanson, that after they entered the house it was impossible for them to leave. Col. S. wounded the feelings of no one, and uttered nothing harsh or repulsive. His whole speech was honest, dignified, and candid, being composed of facts and arguments, and not the cant and trash of some of the k. n. orators—such as down with the furnurers, and "Americans must rule America."

While the k. n. speakers are abusing Buchanan, and endeavoring to divide and distract the South, and throw the election into the House of Representatives, Col. S. eulogized Mr. Fillmore's course while President, and exerted them to examine and find out who was the strongest man, and vote as a unit for him to defeat Fremont and his Abolition hordes. Everywhere all over the country, you can find Democrats making the same remarks, but you cannot get a k. n. to open his mouth on the subject. I understand that several know nothings of this place have expressed themselves favorably to any nominee to beat Buchanan. Thank God we have no such men in the ranks of the Democracy!

But the Colonel was not quite so easy with the nephew of my uncle. He handed Andrew J. Donelson without gloves. He gave him a severe and richly merited castigation. He exhibited him in his true colors as a paltry trickster and office-seeker, and when he explained his connection with "bargain, sale, and corruption," many opened their eyes and saw the dilemma they were in when they refused to vote for Buchanan, because they might think him the author of that charge. Of this infamous charge Col. S. completely and satisfactorily cleared Mr. Buchanan.

Upon all points of controversy Col. S. was able, clear, and logical, proving that the Democracy was the only national party, the only one that could hope for success, and that it was madness and suicidal in the friends of Mr. Fillmore to retain him on the track longer, and that by so doing they were endangering the whole Union, and giving efficient aid to Fremont. He closed up with a beautiful appeal to patriots to stand by the constitution and not give it up to Abolition fanaticism, and he exhorted the Democracy to stand by their colors, and victory would surely perch on their standard.

Col. S. has made himself many friends in this section of the State, and if he succeeds as well elsewhere as he has here, the State is sure for Buchanan and Breckinridge. The Democracy are delighted with him, and the know-nothings dare not say aught against him. He is a host, and his speeches will make a wonderful stampede among our k. n. "brethren."

After Col. S. concluded, Mr. Worthington, of Louisville, was called on. He arose and said he did not intend to reply to Mr. Stephenson, but that he arose at the request of his friends, merely to state a few facts relative to the respects of the "American party." The gentleman being very modest, only claimed for Fillmore every Southern State but two; he considered that they were not altogether certain for Buchanan. This is about all he said, and he therefore answered himself completely. A man who would so falsely notoriouly, well known indisputable facts, could make an impression upon an sensible man.

The Democracy of Boyle has been true and faithful, never faltered, but always come to the polls and voted like men.—Next November you may expect to hear good news from Boyle. She will give a larger Democratic vote than she has ever cast before.

BOYLE.

A WALZ WITH A CORPSE.—A French paper states that, at a ball lately given at Port Louis, L'Orient, a young lady who was walking suddenly felt the hand of her partner become stone cold, and, on looking into his face, saw his features deadly pale and horribly contracted. She fainted, and the cavalier dropped at her side, and was found to be dead several seconds before she knew it, and that she made one turn around the room with him, after he was a corpse.

Hurley's Sarsaparilla

Is not the most reliable but one of the most valuable compounds that can be used during the summer months. For the removal and permanent cure of Scurfula, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Pulmonary Affections, and all cutaneous eruptions arising from an impure or vitiated condition of the blood, it stands unapproached in the history of medicine. It may be used at all seasons with very decided advantage, but especially in the spring and summer season.—Rock Island Argos

Chamber's Journal proves that Dumas, the mulatto author, did not write a twentieth part of the works that pass under his name.

A true copy from the original on file in this Office.

THOS. S. PAGE, Auditor.

Auditor's Office, Frankfort, Ky., July, 1836.

Statement of the "Aetna Insurance Company," of Hartford, Conn.

To the Auditor of Public Accounts, of the State of Kentucky, as required by "An Act to regulate Agencies of Foreign Insurance Companies," approved March 3, 1836.

The Capital Stock is FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, and is paid up, and invested in the following Assets, as submitted to the Stockholders, May 1st, 1836:

500 Shares Stock	Hartford & New Haven Railroad Co.,	4120	$60,000.00
105 "	Hart, Providence & Fitchburg R. R. Co., pref 10%	70	7,350.00
107 "	Boston & Worcester "	87	9,309.00
250 "	Connecticut River "	50	12,500.00
50 "	Connecticut River Company "	25	1,250.00
75 Mortgage	Bonds G & T's Hart. & N. Haven, & H. P. & F. R. R. Cos.	72,000.00
10 "	Income 7's Bonds,	500	4,500.00
10 "	Jersey City City Water Bonds,	102	10,200.00
10 "	Milwaukee City 10's Bonds,	104	5,000.00
10 "	Hartford City 6's Bonds,	100	10,000.00
50 Shares Stock	Stafford Bank,	103	5,150.00
36 "	Citizens' Bank, Waterbury,	103	5,150.00
300 "	Eagle Bank, Providence,	34	1,720.00
100 "	Phoenix Bank, Hartford,	par 100 @108	32,000.00
203 "	Farmers & Mec.'s B'k. H'd.,	par 100 130	26,000.00
308 "	Exchange Bank, Hartford,	par 50 50	15,400.00
200 "	State Bank, Hartford,	par 100 128	25,600.00
100 "	City Bank, Hartford,	par 100 118	11,800.00
175 "	Bank Hartford Co., Hart.,	par 100 105	10,500.00
150 "	Conn. River bank, Hart.	par 50 64	9,750.00
253 "	Hartford Bank, Hart.,	par 100 133	34,147.00
49 "	Charter Oak Bank, Hart.,	par 100 113	4,520.00
209 "	Merchants Ex. B'k. N. Y.,	par 50 119	11,000.00
200 "	North River Bank, N. Y.,	par 50 100	10,000.00
800 "	Mechanics' Bank, N. Y.,	par 25 120	21,000.00
100 "	Bank North America,	par 100 106	10,600.00
200 "	Bank Americ.,	par 100 120	24,000.00
150 "	Bank Republic,	par 100 135	13,500.00
100 "	Bank Commonwealth,	par 100 88	8,800.00
150 "	Bank New York,	par 100 120	12,000.00
400 "	Broadway Bank,	par 25 121	14,520.00
400 "	Prospers' Bank,	par 25 110	11,000.00
100 "	Union Bank,	par 50 118	23,600.00
200 "	Hanover Bank,	par 100 97	9,700.00
200 "	Ocean Bank,	par 50 95	9,500.00
200 "	Metropolitan Bank,	par 100 110	22,000.00
414 "	Butchers & Drivers' Bank,	par 25 127	13,275.00
200 "	Importers & Traders' Bank,	par 100 103	20,600.00
200 "	American Exchange Bank,	par 100 116	23,200.00
200 "	Merchants' Bank,	par 50 145	14,500.00
150 "	Market Bank,	par 100 109	10,900.00
250 "	Phenix Bank,	par 20 1134	5,662.50
100 "	Mahattan Co. Bank,	par 51 132	6,632.50
100 "	United States Trust Co. B'k.,	par 100 107	10,700.00
150 "	N. Y. Life Ins. & Trust Co.,	par 100 162	24,300.00
15 "	M. & T.'s Bk. Jersey City,	par 100 95	1,425.00
50 "	Ohio Life Ins. & Trust Co.,	par 100 924	13,250.00
	Real Estate in Hartford, Louisville, Ky., and Cincinnati, Ohio,		546,968.00
	Office Furniture and Library,		31,435.00
	Money due the Company secured by mortgage,		839.63
	Bills receivable, payable at the Bank, running to maturity,		82,492.17
	Special deposits with Phoenix Bank,		50,000.00
	Special deposits with Hartford Bank,		25,000.00
	Special deposits with State Bank,		25,000.00
	Special deposits with Farmers and Mechanics Bank,		3,790.00
	Interests accrued on these deposits,		128,791.00
	Cash on hand,		43.54
	Balance due from agents and others,		29,752.81
	Deduct balances due from the Company,		28,638.71
			11,114.10
	Capital Stock,		500,000.00
	Surplus, balance of profit and loss acct.,		500,733.60
			$1,000,733.60
	Losses due and unpaid—none.
	Losses adjusted and not due,		7,002.89
	Losses in suspense, waiting further proof,		35,156.58
	Losses resisted, (the causes are various—uninsurable interest, fraud, suspensions of fraud, &c.)		59,693.03
	All other claims against the Company are small, for printing and other minor contingent expenses.

Hartford, May 1, 1836.

THOS. S. PAGE, Auditor.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT, HARTFORD COUNTY, ss HARTFORD, June 12, 1836.
Personally appeared before me, a Justice of the Peace, duly qualified to administer oaths, Thomas A. Alexander, Secretary, and made solemn oath that the foregoing statement of the assets and condition of the Aetna Insurance Company is true.
July 16-36
HENRY FOWLER, Justice of the Peace.

THOS. S. PAGE, Auditor.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE, FRANKFORT, KY., 1st July, 1836.

This is to certify that L. H. NOBLE, as Agent of the Aetna Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., at Marion County, has filed in this office the statements and exhibits required by the provisions of an act, entitled "An Act to regulate Agencies of Foreign Insurance Companies," approved March 3, 1836; and it having been shown to the satisfaction of the undersigned that said Company is possessed of an actual capital of at least one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, as required by said act, the said L. H. Noble, as Agent as aforesaid, is hereby licensed and permitted to take risks and transact business of insurance at his office in Lebanon, for the term of one year from the date hereof. But this license may be revoked, if it shall be made to appear to the undersigned that since the filing of the statements above referred to, the available capital of said Company has been reduced below one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

In testimony whereof, I have set my hand, the day and year above written.
THOS. S. PAGE, Auditor.

Home Remedies.

In another column of to-day's paper will be found the advertisement of L. H. Noble & Co. Their preparations are made among us and are known to be at least equal, if not superior to any others of similar kinds put up anywhere. The Chill and Fever Remedy has no superior, as can be satisfactorily shown by those who have been cured by it. The sale has been so great for the past few weeks, and the satisfaction it has given so general, that the proprietors will, in the course of a few coming weeks, send to different parts of the country one hundred dozen. This remedy is not only safe and certain, but by its combining in just proportions the properties of a Tonic and Anti-Pertic, Cathartic, and Diaphoretic; it needs no other medicine to accompany it; and besides it leaves the system free in a great measure from the usual tendency to a return of the disease.

The Sarsaparilla is the official preparation, made after the formula of the United States Dispensary, and contains only the pure and fresh Honduras Root. It is recommended by our Physicians as superior to any other in the market. Its rapid sale among us, to those who know its qualities and the manner of its preparation would seem to be its best recommendation.

Of the Extract of Jamaica Ginger, there need be nothing said. It has been in use extensively for three years past and gives general satisfaction.

These preparations are not Patent Medicines. There is no secret about them. The public can see the formula by which they are prepared, and any respectable Physician can have the same by application to the proprietors in person or by letter.

These remedies can always be had, wholesale or retail, of the proprietors, at their Drug Store in Lebanon, Ky., and of Druggists generally.

A LARGE LOT OF READY-MADE CLOTHING, consisting of fine suits of Cloth, Cassimere, and Vests, on hand and for sale by A. J. SPALDING & COMPANY.

A. M. COOK JONES,

WITH LANE & BARTLETT,
WHOLESALE GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
No. 404, Main St., opposite the Louisville Hotel.

July 9-2m.

NOTICE.
Cabinet Shop.

THE Business will hereafter be carried on by the undersigned, in all its branches, at the stand formerly occupied by McKoy & Co. Grateful for the patronage heretofore extended to the establishment, I hope to deserve a continuance of the same.
R. M. BOWMAN.
Nov. 7 if

HURLEY, THOMAS A., Druggist and Apothecary, and Manufacturer of Hurley's Sarsaparilla, North-west corner Seventh and Green streets, Louisville, Ky.
Oct. 31-36.

Boyle Farm for Sale!

INTENDING to remove West, I offer for sale on reasonable terms,
THE FARM
On which I now reside, situated on the Turnpike road leading from Danville to Lebanon, 6 miles from the former place. It contains 278 ACRES

Of first rate Land, subdivided into fields of proper size, and provided with the necessary buildings and out-houses. It has also a sufficient quantity of never-failing water, and is in every respect well worthy the attention of those wishing to purchase a Farm. Besides, it is a first-rate location for either a Tavern or Stock Stand, being on the route of travel South and West. Being determined to sell, a good bargain may be had, and purchasers are invited to call.
JOHN HENDERSON.

Negroes Wanted.

I WISH TO PURCHASE FIFTY likely young negroes, of both sexes. For such I am willing to pay the highest cash prices.
All letters addressed on that business will be promptly attended to at short notice.
Address
WILLIAM MATTINGLY,
Parsburg, Ky.
June 25, 1836-1y.

B. M. & C. H. SANDERS & CO. W. SANBURY

Wednesday Morning, July 30, 1856.

Rags! Rags! Rags!!!

Clean Linnen and Cotton Rags wanted at this office. The highest price in CASH will be paid for any amount brought.

Notice.

All personal communications to this paper will be hereafter charged as advertisements, and must be paid for, before they can appear. This rule will be adhered to strictly.

We are authorized to announce E. C. WEBB, as a candidate for the office of Assessor at the ensuing August election.

We are authorized to announce G. W. GOODRICH as a candidate for Sheriff in the county of Marion at the ensuing August election; and if elected, JAMES GARRIS is to be his Deputy.

We are authorized to announce JAMES D. HARDIN, of Harrodsburg, as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the new Fifth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Green, Taylor, Marion, Washington, Nelson, Anderson, and Mercer.

We sometimes hear the remark that Mr. Buchanan may be a good man and conservative, and that, were he President of the United States, he might distribute the laws of his country with impartial justice; but (we want no buts) Mr. Fillmore has been tried—has run the gauntlet, and he has been found true to the oath which swears him to administer equal justice on either side of Mason and Dixon's line.

Mr. Fillmore has not been tried. As the whig President of the people, he may have endeavored to discharge the duties of the chief magistracy; but, as the knowing candidate for that responsible office, he must have taken the hard oath which this party impose; and having done this, he most solemnly avows to prosecute politically, every solitary man in the whole length and breadth of this Union, who dares to exercise the independence to vote for whom he pleases. Mr. Fillmore swears to promote no man, if per accident he was born on some other soil than our own—his conscientious convictions are Roman Catholic;—and whether he be foreign born or native, Catholic or Protestant—if he be not a member of the know-nothing party, he dare not appoint him to office, or retain him if he occupies one. And such a man they presume to make President for the whole people? Such a man will ally the agitations which know-nothingism itself has created! Mr. Fillmore, if elected President, must be either false to his know-nothing oath, or to the Constitution. In either case, a sensible and impartial people want no such President.

We are astonished that old line whigs—as some call themselves—should, by their co-operation with this proscriptive party, assist in the elevation of Fillmore. They furnish the weapon for their own political dissolution, and long for their own execution. We cannot believe all their professions of loyalty to the old whig party. Where is the similitude? what the affinity? The one was a great national conservative party, holding in its embrace the whole Union, and acknowledging the equality of all men who were under no Constitutional disabilities. The other, selfish, inconsistent, and unnatural, insulting a large and respectable portion of the citizens of this commonwealth by proclaiming them unworthy of the confidence of their fellow-citizens—disloyal to the Constitution which they have sworn to support—and who, if the Pope commanded it, would set fire to the capital itself!

Do old line whigs recognize any principles of their party in the avowal and propagation of such monstrous doctrines as these? Do old line stump orators never feel any remorse of conscience for the part they play in this disgusting drama? "Honest Iago," we can place no confidence in you.

We are little afraid that hereafter, when the know-nothing party shall only be remembered with more loathing than now rests upon the "Blue" whigs, that they want a hole just large enough for a man who calls himself an old line whig, to crawl out of.—National Democrat.

A preacher not long since asking to stay all night at a country house, was forbidden by the lady. Knowing her to be a member of the church and generally phase to entertain ministers, he began to quote Paul to her, hoping she would understand by this hint that he was a preacher. He had hardly got out "for thereby some have entertained angels unaware," when she said, "but angels, sir, would not come with tobacco stuck in their mouths." The preacher left without any further ceremony.

The speech of T. C. Woods, Esq., of Marion, in reply to A. M. Hancock, was an able and thorough vindication of Mr. Buchanan from the vile charges preferred against him by know-nothing orators, and was a capital effort in all respects. The only objection we had to it was, that it was much too dignified a speech to place in company with one of Hancock's indecent tirades. A blackguard was very much needed on that occasion.—Harrodsburg Free Press.

It is said that John Van Buren is about to wed the only daughter of the late John C. Calhoun.—Post.

The only daughter of the late John C. Calhoun will hardly thank the newspapers for giving her two husbands at once. "Prince John" must defer his pretensions until the Hon. Mr. Cremonson, of Md., shall have "stuffed off this moral coil" before he can even have "a showing" with the brilliant, accomplished, and dignified matron referred to in the above paragraph.—Boston Courier.

New Advertisements.

PROSPECTUS

OF

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

NEAR LEBANON, MARION CO., KY.

The exercises of this flourishing Institution will commence on the first Monday on next September, (1856,) on which day all students are desired to be punctually in attendance. Under a new President and Faculty, every effort will be made to render the College worthy an increased public confidence. Students will be received without distinction of religious denomination, provided they be of good moral character, and are willing to comply with all the regulations. There are two sessions per year, each of five months, the first ending February 1, and the second about the 1st of July.

TERMS PER SESSION.

[INvariably in Advance.]

Board, with Tuition in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic and the Elements of Grammar, $42.50

Board, with tuition in Grammar, Geography, Use of the Globes, Geometry, Algebra, Surveying, or either of these Branches, 47.00

Board, with tuition in Rhetoric, History, Book-keeping, the Elements of Mental and Natural Philosophy, Botany, Higher Mathematics and the Latin Language, or either of them, 51.00

Washing and ironing, 5.00

Physician's Fee and Medicines, 2.50

EXTRA CHARGES, AT THE OPTION OF PARENTS.

Musical, per Quarter, $10.00

Bed and Bedding, when furnished, 5.00

Stationary, (Pens, Ink and Paper,) 2.50

Board at College during vacation, 12.00

For further information apply to REV. P. J. LAVILLE, President St. Mary's College, Lebanon, Marion County, Ky., who will forward a Prospectus of the Institution to any one desiring full details. July 30, 2m

Election Notice.

In obedience to a writ of election, issued by order of the Marion County Court, at the July term 1856, for the election of certain officers for Marion county, I hereby notify the voters of Marion county, that a poll will be opened at the several places of voting, established by law in said county, at the ensuing August election, 1856, for the election of an Assessor of tax, to fill the unexpired term of Bernard Abell, dec'd; and for the election of a Coroner for said county, to fill the unexpired term of John Purdy, dec'd; also a poll will be opened in New Market precinct, No. 3, for the election of one Justice of the Peace, in the room of Richard M'Attee, resigned. Also a poll will be opened at Fitzpatrick's precinct, No. 1, for the election of one Justice of the Peace, in the room of Samuel Britton, resigned; also a poll will be opened at Lebanon precinct, No. 4, to elect one Justice of the Peace, in the room of S. G. Dabney, resigned. Also a poll will be opened at the Bradfordsville precinct, No. 2, for the election of a Constable in said district, in the room of George Hughes removed. Also a poll will be opened at Livers' Springs precinct, No. 6, for the election of a Constable in said district, in the room of George Riggs resigned. And the officers of the August election 1856, are hereby notified to conduct the election of said officers according to law.

July 30-1w FELIX JARBOE, Sheriff Marion Co.

Runaway

FROM the subscriber, living five miles north-east of Lebanon, Ky., on the 19th inst., a negro man named JESSE, commonly called TATER. He is black, about 35 years of age, about 4 feet 9 inches high, has one hand off at the wrist, with the thumb on the other turned up toward the wrist.

A liberal reward will be given to any person catching and returning him to me, on July 30-2w JAMES M. MUDD.

Mill Creek Mills.

HAVING overhauled and thoroughly repaired our MILLS, and put on new ironing cloths, we are now prepared to execute work promptly and in the very best manner.

We grind for an eleventh, and do custom work on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Wagon loads promptly attend to at any time. We solicit the patronage of the public. The highest prices in cash paid for Wheat.

July 23-3m LEWIS & MURPHY.

valuable Stock Farm For Sale.

I OFFER at private sale, my farm, containing ONE THOUSAND ACRES, situated on C. Wright's Creek, in Washington county, six miles from Springfield, and lying between the Springfield and Barstow and Springfield and H. on the Turnpike route, about one mile from each. My improvements consist of a two story Brick House, containing six rooms, a passage and a cellar; a Brick Smoke House, Weaving House and Kitchen. My new house is roomy and comfortable, and new, being built by myself during the past year. I have upwards of TWO HUNDRED ACRES IN BOTTOM, the same amount well set in grass and the balance in woods, the growth of which is white and black walnut, ash, sugar tree, white cherry and oak.

All of this land is admirably adapted to the growth of Blue Grass. My farm is well watered, having water in all my fields and pastures during most of the year.

Persons wishing to purchase, by calling on the undersigned will be shown the place, and the terms made known to them.

July 16-2m S. L. SHARP.

Lebanon Post copy and charge advertiser.

SCOTCH ALE AND LONDON BROWN

Shut in store and for sale by

April 2 W. SANBURY.

HURLEY AND GUY'S SASSAPARILLA

is a store and for sale by

April 2 W. SANBURY.

BEST JAMES RIVER AND COMMON

Tobacco can be had of

April 2 W. SANBURY.

PORT MONARS OF THE BEST QUALITY

can be had at

April 2 W. SANBURY'S Drug Store.

ANDERSON'S QUICK YEAST—For sale

by

April 2 W. SANBURY'S Drug Store.

THE BEST OF STAR AND STEARIN

Candles are sold by the box at

April 2 W. SANBURY'S Drug Store.

RAGS! RAGS! RAGS!!!

5000 POUNDS of Rags wanted immediately at this Office, for which a liberal price in cash will be paid.

Lebanon, Ky., May 5, 1852

ALL KINDS OF BLANKS done in the neatest style at this office.

5000 POUNDS of clean Linnen and Cotton Rags wanted at the Printing Office, for which the highest price CASH will be paid. May 5, 1852

Hurley's Sarsaparilla.

OF all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the "chills and the flesh is their test," none equal this wonderful preparation. Only three years have elapsed since the discoverer (who spent a decade in hard, experimenting, and perfecting it, first introduced it to the public, and it is now recognized by the most eminent physicians of all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy for certain diseases of which the human system is susceptible.

All other compounds or syrups of the root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the faculty, because on being tested they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of the Sarsaparilla, and often times injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Bones, Habitual Constipation, Debility, Indigestion, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, Piles, Erysipelas, Pulmonary diseases, Female Irregularities, Scrofula, or Kings Evil, Fistula, Syphilis, and all Skin Diseases.

Designing to cure the above it is known to be a great and powerful tonic, purifying the blood and invigorating the system. In short, it is without exception, in the cases mentioned, and its general effect upon the system is the most efficacious, as it is the most desirable remedy of the age. It is already extensively used throughout the country, and is fast obtaining an European reputation. The instances of cures it has effected are daily coming to the attention of the faculty, and he has no hesitation in recommending it to all who desire to procure relief from suffering. One bottle being tried, its effects will be too apparent to admit of further doubt.

Recollect Hurley's Sarsaparilla is the only genuine article in the market.

Price 1 per bottle, or six bottles for 5.

For sale at the manufacturers, corner Seventh and Chestnut, Louisville, Ky. And by

L. H. NOBLE, and L. A. SPALDING, Lebanon, Ky.

Oct. 31st.

CONSUMPTION.

Successfully Treated by Inhalation of Medicated Vapors.

BY JOHNSON STEWART ROSE, M. D., Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, and for years senior Physician in the London Royal Infirmary, for diseases of the lungs.

In this age of progress, Medical Science has contributed her full share to the general welfare; and that which shines resplendent, the brightest jewel in her diadem, is her last and greatest gift, MEDICATED VAPOR INHALATION, in the treatment of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and kindred affections.

All must see the absurdity of treating Consumption through the stomach, by filling it with nauseous drugs; the disease is not in the stomach, but in the lungs, and by inhaling medicine in the form of Vapor, I apply the remedy directly to the diseased organ. There is, therefore, no case so hopeless that inhalation will not reach it. I earnestly appeal to the common sense of all afflicted with lung diseases, to embrace at once the advantage of inhalation.

I claim for inhalation in the treatment of consumption, &c. a place amongst the priceless gifts that nature and art has given us, that "four days may be long in the land," and as the only ark of refuge for the Consumptive! A method not only rational, but simple, safe, and efficacious.

I have pleasure in referring to 108 names, residents of New York and neighborhood, who have been restored to vigorous health, about one-third of the above number, according to the patients' own statements, were considered hopeless cases.

The Inhalation method is so simple, safe, and consists in the administration of medicines in such a manner that they are conveyed into the lungs in the form of vapor, and produce their action at the seat of the disease. Its practical success is destined to revolutionize the opinions of the medical world, and establish the entire CURABILITY of Consumption.

Applicants will please state if they have been afflicted with the lungs, if they have lost flesh, have a cough, night sweats, and fever, and what, and how much they expectorate, what the condition of their stomach and bowels. The Medicines, Ap. amms, &c. will be forwarded to any part.

TESTIMONY.

"We, the undersigned, practitioners in medicine, cheerfully recommend Dr. Johnson's Rose's method of treating diseases of the throat and lungs, as the best and most effective of any known in the medical practice. Our convictions are based upon having several of our own patients, confirmed consumptives, restored to vigorous health after a few months treatment by Dr. Rose."

In the above named disease, the application of "Medicated Vapors" inhaled directly into the lungs may be justly considered a great boon to suffering humanity, rendering consumption a perfectly curable disease.

Dr. Rose deserves well of the profession for his strenuous and unswerving exertions in bringing this successful and only reliable method of treating consumption to such a degree of perfection.

Signed,

W. V. BREWSTER, M. D. New York.

R. A. STODOL, M. D. "

J. A. MOTT, M. D. "

CYRUS KINGSLEY, M. D. "

And eleven other eminent practitioners in this and neighboring cities.

Terms—Five dollars, consultation free. Balance of fee payable only when patients report themselves convalescent.

N. B. The new postage law requires that all letters be prepaid. My correspondence being extensive, applications to ensure replies must enclose postage.

Dr. Rose's Treatise on Consumption—price one dollar. Address

JOHNSON STEWART ROSE.

Office, 831 Broadway, New York.

Money letters must be registered by the Post-Office; such letters, only, bring at my risk.

July 17-155a

Special Notices.

When death has fastened the remedy which would have saved life, if administered in time, comes too late. Do not trifle with disease. Rely upon it, that when the stomach will not digest food; when faintness and lassitude pervade the system; when the sleep is disturbed, the appetite feeble, the mind lethargic, the nerves immutably sensitive, and the head confusedly upon it, that when these symptoms occur, the powers of vitality are failing, and that, unless the mischief is promptly checked, life will be shortened, as well as rendered miserable. Now we know from a mass of testimony, greater than was ever before accumulated in favor of one remedy, that Hurley's Sarsaparilla, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of Philadelphia, will immediately subvert, and in the end, entirely remove all of these disorders as surely as a mathematical process will solve a problem. Who, then, will venture the agony, and the risk of life, with health and safety within reach?

See advertisement.

INVALIDS recovering from the effects of Fever, Billous Disorders, or long continued illness of any kind, will find Carter's Spanish Mixture the only remedy which will restore their drooping constitutions, expel all humors from the blood, excite the liver to a prompt and healthy action, and by its tonic properties, restore the patient to life and vigor.

We can only say TRY IT. A single bottle is worth all the so-called Sarsaparillas in existence. It contains no Mercury, Quinine, or any other injurious or poisonous ingredient, and can be given to the youngest infant without the least harm. See the certificates of wonderful cures around the bottles. More than five hundred persons in the city of Richmond, Va., can testify to its good effects.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

See advertisement.

THE UNIVERSITY'S

FAMILY REMEDIES:

Issued under the Seal, Sanction and Authority of THE UNIVERSITY OF FREE MEDICINE

AND POPULAR KNOWLEDGE.

Chartered by the State of Pennsylvania, April 29th, 1853, with a capital of $100,000.

Mainly for the purpose of removing the evils of

Also to supply the Community with reliable

Resumes whenever a Competent Physician

cannot or will not

